Integrated systems

Dec is the ideal partner for the integration of new or existing equipment in primary and secondary processes, taking a holistic approach to ensure that every element has been taken into consideration.

Highly skilled and experienced project teams work alongside both customers and other suppliers to integrate all encompassing isolation and containment solutions. The process starts with a front end design study, then works through development, design, engineering, manufacture, installation, commissioning, validation, training, right through to support.

Full compliance with current health, safety and regulatory standards is maintained throughout.

Includes:

- Tablet processes
- Packing lines
- Powder filling
- Capsule filling
- Blow moulding machines
- Milling machines
- Blending Machinery
